Erica Wighenhorn

A PASSION FOR TEACHING SCRIPTURE

A passion for teaching Scripture. That's how groups describe Erica Wighenhorn when she teaches biblical topics and principles. She delights in God's Word and its ability to transform individuals and their relationships.

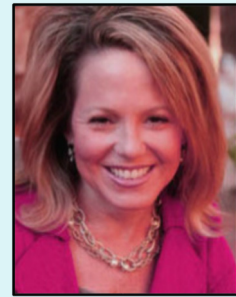

With a personable style, Erica teaches Bible studies and other scriptural, life-related topics to groups in the United States and overseas. And she's available to speak to your group, helping people at any life stage to apply biblical principles to life.

Erica's trilogy of Bible studies about Old Testament prophets model how to live with purpose, promise, and power. For personal or group use, Ezekiel: Every Life Positioned for Purpose, and Moses: Every Life Proof of God's Promises sell in online bookstores. A study about Elijah and Elisha will release soon.

"I believe purpose, promise, and power are crucial to every Christian's life. We want these qualities, but we don't always understand how to access them," explains Erica. "Certain prophets reveal how to live with these characteristics. We can study God's character to understand how He transforms lives."

For more insight into Erica's heart for Scripture and life change, read her in-depth website interview, "Every Life Can Change," and an extended biography at www.ericawighenhorn.com.

SPEAKING TOPICS FOR YOUR GROUP

To explore God and His relationship with you, Erica can teach these studies to your group. Most topics adapt to a half- or one-day seminar, or a weekend retreat. For more information about each presentation, visit Erica's website at www.ericawighorn.com.

Bible Study Kick-Off or Wrap-Up. If you're doing the Ezekiel or Moses study as a group, begin or end with a visit from the author. Learn from Erica's research and ask questions.

Ezekiel: Every Life Positioned for Purpose. Why am I here? What am I supposed to do? Ezekiel's life can reassure you that God uses roles and circumstances for great purposes. Explore God's universal and individual plans for his people.

It's About Time. How do you live intentionally, full of vitality? This practical workshop considers your dreams, talents, skills, and passions. God intends for you to unwrap and display his beautiful gifts to you.

Living Free. What if you could embrace a new reality? With God's help, you can change yourself and your life. Learn to make choices and develop daily habits to walk in freedom.

Managing Mountaintops & Valleys. Whether you're on a spiritual high or low, God wants to walk with and teach you. The biblical pattern for travels from the mountaintop to the valley and back again. Great insight and promise await you.

Moses: Every Life Proof of God's Promises. Moses exemplifies how God tirelessly works to mend broken lives, heal wounded relationships, and inspire trust in His promises. He can change every life.

Studying Scripture for Life Change. Is your group or personal study time stuck in a rut? Look at the Bible's place and purpose in your life; how Jesus modeled teaching the truth; and making growth and change part of a study.

Your Roots & Your Reach. How do you push past fear and live the meaningful life God intends for you? How do you identify your fears and overcome them? Abandon fear: let God use your roots to develop your reach in the world.
